Dear First/Second Grade Families,

This school week has had a chilly start! Please remember to send your child in with all the necessary winter gear. It is also a good idea to pack them extra socks in case they get wet.

Our school will be getting new Chrome books that our students will be able to try out. First and Second Graders will begin learning Spanish through a site called Middlebury Interactive! Students in the middle school have been using this site and are enjoying learning a foreign language. This will be an enriching experience for all, and we are excited to offer it to your child.

We hope that you all had a nice break and are staying warm during this cold week. Have a great weekend!

First Grade Foundations: We will finish Unit 6 in Foundations this week and I will send the homework for Unit 7 home on Monday.

First Grade Math: We are still working on subtraction strategies up to 20. We will work on fact families again soon.

Second Grade Foundations: Students started Unit 8 in Foundations. This unit covers r- controlled syllables and how to mark them up. Unit 8 homework will be in their folder and is due back on January 19th.

Second Grade Math: Students took a math test today on Chapter 5, which covered place value up to the thousands. Chapter 6 introduces adding three-digit numbers.

Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Hook will be out on Friday for a class that teaches about using technology in the classroom.
